3 PROJECTS WILL BE STARTED SOON BY CHAMBER HEADS

Membership Drive, Opening of Second Avenue to be Studied by Directors

GROUP MEETS THURSDAY

Indications Point to Active Year For Civic Body; New Industry Seen

Three important civic enterprises are today before the chamber of commerce directors for consideration at their meeting in the Upland Hotel Thursday night.

They are:

Annual membership drive.

Movement to open Second avenue.

Repaving of Ninth street from Euclid avenue to the east city limits.

With 85 persons already members of the chamber for 1929-30, the officials will launch their annual campaign for members earlier than last year. An organization for this campaign will be tentatively formed Thursday.

Walter Allen and his Second avenue opening committee will be ready for action and plans for a future course will be outlined.

The proposition of improving Ninth street through the city will be discussed, following the city council's recommendation that the chamber take steps to secure county and state aid.

Indications point to the chamber having its most active year in history under the direction of Norman S. Lawson, president, and Clair E. Kirk, secretary.

Among its other activities is a movement to bring new industries and more capital to the city and one project is under consideration today by the "new industries" committee.

Harold Moore Able to Take More Food

Reports today from the hospital concerning the condition of Harold C. Moore are somewhat encouraging, the word being that Mr. Moore was able to take some solid nourishment Sunday for the first time since his 2 week's of critial illness. He also seems to take more interest in his surroundings and has inquired about his friends. These facts would seem to indicate a slight improvement, however, the attending physicians still believe it will be some time, perhaps weeks, before any definite change may be expected.

Legion Men From County Posts to Be Here Tonight

Upland tonight will be the scene of the American Legion county council meeting, with 150 coming from every post in the district. The local post of the Legion will have a prominent part in the program.

Several special entertainment features are scheduled, in addition to several important business matters. A speed exhibition by drum and bugle crops is expected to be one of the high lights.

This is the first time for several years that the council has met in Upland.

Business Men to Review Past and Look to Future

Reviewing the past and looking to the future, members of the Upland Business Men's association will meet in Davis cafe Friday night to elect officers, hear the report of Herbert C. Naylor, secretary, and plan for coming events.

Indications today were that more than 50 men would be present for the meeting, which will be short and with nothing 5but business scheduled. Due to the serious illness of Harold C. Moore and the recent illness of A. H. Johnson, both prominent members of the group, social features were not planned.

CROMBIE ALLEN TALKS AT ROTARY

Ontario Editor Is Delightful Speaker at Luncheon This Noon

Filling in as a "pinch hitter" for Dr. R. C. Stone, the scheduled speaker, Editor Crombie Allen of the Ontario Daily Report, turned a review of the Rotarian, monthly magazine, into a brillant address before the members of the Upland Rotary club and their guests, at the Sycamores, this noon.

Dr. Stone called upon Mr. Allen, a personal friend of many of the staff of The Rotarian, the organ of International Rotary, to tell something of the background of the magazine and of its real worth. This the Ontario newspaper man did in magnificent style. Characterizing the magazine as being far and away ahead of the "best sellers," he recommended it as the finest kind of reading, not only for Rotarians but for the general public. Mr. Allen's address was a skillful weaving of wit, philosophy and good sense and idealism into a perfect picture which held the closest attention of the men.

As an aside from his address, Mr. Allen paid a high tribute to the Upland Rotary which he called a "singing club" and one that fulfilled the highest ideal of Rotary service.

President Charles V. Barr took a day off from active leadership and presented John Shepperson, chairman of the program committee, as the presiding officer. Dr. Stone, in turn, introduced the speaker of the day as his substitute. Music for the day was in the hands of A. L. Moore and John D. Howe.

Last year Dr. Bert Foster, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church held a number of services at Camp Baldy for the boys from Los Angeles who were doing road work. His talks were so much appreciated that some of these same "honor boys" who are now doing work near Glendora have asked for his return to them. He spoke to them recently and will go over again Thursday evening and speak on the subject "How to Build a Road on the Frontier." Wes Henzie will drive over with Dr. Foster, accompainied by several others.

HOOVER INAUGURAL WILL BE HISTORIC, STATES DR. HILL

Community Class Hears Chaffey Educator at Junior High Sunday

BIG EVENT DESCRIBED

Local Citizen Is Impressed by Christian Character of Address

The inauguration of Herbert Hoover as president of the United States will go down in history on a par with the inaugurals of our greatest presidents, notably Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, Dr. Merton E. Hill, head of Chaffey high school and Junior college, told 166 men gathered Sunday forenoon at the Upland Junior high school for the monthly meeting of the Community class.

The deepest impression that Dr. Hill received at the inauguration, he said, was the moment when Mr. Hoover kissed the Bible. This to him was a symbol of the recognition by our nation of the Bible and of our dependence upon Christianity. President Hoover's address was on a high moral plane and carried a distinct spiritual note, said the Chaffey educator. Hoover stated that he looked to God for help and this made a deep impression upon the big audience. After hearing the inaugural address and mingling with the great throngs at the nation's capital, Dr. Hill said that he was more than ever impressed with the fact that this is a Christian nation.

Hoover, stated the local educator, showed an undoubted determination to back the prohibition law and his fearless stand is certain to make it easier to enforce the Volstead act. While on this point Dr. Hill stated that on his whole trip through 18 states and while in the capital, where there were uncounted thousands, he saw only one drunken man. He contrasted this with conditions of the wide open days of the saloon.

Dr. Hill told the men in a very interesting way of his strenuous efforts to witness the inauguration and of how finally he secured good seats for both the inauguration and the parade. After spending hours in an effort to get seats and finding numerous telegrams and recommendations from Senators and Congressmen of no avail, he set out to sit near the capital for six hours or so but after two hours of near-freezing, a friend came along and gave him two seats for the inaugural program. In similar fashion, he was able to secure good seats for the parade, after some were "turned back," but had to walk 40 minutes to get around the crowd and to the seats.

The parade was a wonderful sight, stated Dr. Hill, but he was impressed by its military nature. The large number of bands also made it very thrilling. There was a constant downpour of rain which reminded him, he said, of the Madonna of the Trail celebration here at Upland when rain fell all day long.

Prior to his remarks on the inauguration the teacher of the Men's class discussed the lesson topic. He said that news of the illness of Harold C. Moore had come to him at Washington as a great shock. He asked the men to stand for a moment of silent prayer for the recovery of the well known Upland citizen.

Bethany Union Aid Selects Officers

A all-day meeting of the Bethany Union Ladies' Aid society was held at the church Friday, the principal feature of the meeting being the annual election of officers.

At the noon hour luncheon was served and was followed by devotional service led by Mrs. William Littlewood.

As a result of the election the entire staff was re-elected with but one exception, the new officer being the second vice-president. The officers to serve the society the coming year are: Mrs. C. E. Gamsby, president; Mrs. William Littlewood, first vice.president; Miss Elvina Shroyer, second vice-president; Mrs. F. L. Warburton, secretary; Mrs. H. J. Clewett, treasurer, an office which she has held for 12 years.

After the election some time was spent in planning for the play, which will be given on Tuhrsday night, March 14.

Miss Elizabeth Hawkins Is Honored by Being Admitted into Journalistic Sorority

Miss Elizabeth Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hawkins, West Thirteenth, is making splendid progress in her work as student in the school of journalism at Columbia university, New York, as is indicated by her recent winning of an honor greatly coveted by journalism students. Miss Hawkins has just notified her parents of her election to Psi chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, a national honorary journalistic sorority. Psi chapter includes only members of the Columbia school of journalism.

When the requirements for membership are considered it will readily be seen that Miss Hawkins' honor was well earned. The requirements are: Scholarship, professional promise, endorsement by the director, J. W. Cunkliff, head of the school of journalism, and unanimous acceptance by the chapter. The chapter is strictly a scholastic organization.

Miss Hawkins, in her letter, also told of her trip, on a crowded excursion train, to Washington on March 4. She and her party were near enough to hear President Hoover take the oath of office and to see President Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft and other notables on the platform. The party concluded their visit in the capital city with a sightseeing trip.

BOWLING CENTER OPENS ON FRIDAY

Six Alleys Will Be Used For First Time by Ontario City Councilmen

The West End's super bowling alley in Ontario will open Friday night. Mayor Francis P. Williams and the five other councilmen, along with George P. Weldon, president of the Ontario chamber of commerce, will roll the first balls down the six alleys.

That was part of the tentative program today, with music by the Ontario American Legion band and an address of welcome by Ben W. Spencer, secretary of the Ontario chamber of commerce, and several exhibition matches also arranged for.

Two Upland men are in the corporation making this new addition possible. They are Dr. O. W. Kankel and Harry W. Harlow. Welles T. Ross is president, J. T. Maffett, vice-president; C. C. Peabody, secretary, with Dr. S. A. Craig, with the Upland men, director.

These officials point out that the sport lovers are going to be offered the best fountain lunch service obtainable, with Mrs. Ruth Kennedy in charge of this department in the front of the building, which is located at 218 West "A" street.

Exhibition matches will be staged between Harold Lloyd's team, Los Angeles, and a San Bernardino team. Women all-star bowlers from Los Angeles, will meet an all-star team from San Bernardino. Teams representing Ontario and Pomona will also offer entertainment.

Upland Club Women Attend Pomona Meeting—

The district meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club, which was held Saturday at Pomona, the club of that city being hostess, was an important as well as very enjoyable one, several important matters of business coming before the meeting.

The business meeting was held in the afternoon and committees were appointed for the district convention to be held in Santa Ana in June. Miss Dana Williams, president of the Ontario club, was named as one of the tellers on the election board.

Another important action taken was the passage of resolutions protesting against certain bills now before the state legislature which will affect the status of women in business.

One new club was received into the organization, it being the Wilmington club.

It was interesting to note that the district meeting was attended by ten members of the recently organized San Bernardino club.

Attending the meeting from the Upland club were Mrs. George L. Winter, junior past district president; Mrs. F. H. Manker, district treasurer; Mrs. Edna Swan, president of the Upland club; Miss Le Ola Lee, treasurer of the local club, and Misses Margaret and Elizabeth Harris, the four later going over for the dinner and program in the evening.

William Atchley, one of the most successful bee men in the county, and owner of 1500 colonies of bees, is receiving much publicity concerning his work. The Sunday Los Angeles Times carried a story of Mr. Atchley's activities accompanied by a picture showing one of the Atchley trucks loaded with coverings for colonies of bees ready to be shipped to the various feeding grounds.

BEAUTY TO OPEN SPRING IN CITY

Firms Preparing For Elaborate Display, Decorations March 21

Nearly every business house in the city is going to appear in spring clothes March 21.

Merchants are going to decorate lavishly for two reasons—to provide for a fit setting for the "spring opening" scheduled on that date by the Upland Business Men's association, and to compete for two Upland News prizes.

A survey among the firms today indicated that extensive preparations are underway to get the latest and best spring fashions here and to decorate the windows and store interiors in a style never before attempted.

From 7 to 9 o'clock on that night is the time when all the residents of Upland, Alta Loma and Cucamonga will be the guests of Upland merchants—when the best obtainable will be shown—when nothing will be offered for sale and when two stores will be selected as offering the best decorations.

One prize from the Upland News will go to the store that has the best interior color and decoration scheme and another Upland News prize will go to the store having the best window display., Three out-of-town persons will select the winners. The Upland News prizes will be awarded that night.

Just what the stores are going to do is not known. Perhaps some will serve refreshments. Others may give away souvenirs and it may be that prizes will be given to the visitors.

At any rate this spring opening will take the form of a style show, with scores of other attractions and features. It was said today that the store decorations alone will be enough to attract a throng here.

Lions Will Elect Leaders March 28

New officers of the Lions club are to be chosen March 28 as the result of action taken by the board of directors. The new president will also represent the club at the international and district conventions, this provision being voted as an amendment at the meeting of the club last week.

Wiley W. Mather is president, and J. Emery Sargent and V. H. Wilson are vice-presidents. Other officers are Walter W. Horak, lion tamer; Ray W. Flickinger, tail-twister; Fred E. Draper, secretary, and J. W. Mehl a director with the other officers.

Judge B. F. Warmer will be the speaker at the club meeting on Thursday, with Dr. C. E. Gregg in charge.

Guy Chaffee Dies at Huntington Park

Word has been received here of the death of Guy H. Chaffee of Huntington Park, formerly of Watts. Mr. Chaffee was a member of the Chaffee family so well known in Upland, being a nephew of Henry Chaffee of Upland, F. B. Chaffee of Ontario, and of E. P. Chaffee, formerly of Upland but now of Los Angeles.

Mr. Chaffee was a Mason and members of that order had charge of the funeral service which was held Monday. Interment was made in Angelus Abbey Mausoleum at Compton.

Mrs. Charles Dinger, who was recently operated on in the Alhambra hospital, was doing nicely when word was last received from her.

HEAVY RAINFALL OVER WEEK-END AIDS RANCHERS

Downpour That Comes Saturday and Continues Sunday Totals 2.49 Inches

J. R. Johnston Says Season Is Now Ahead of Previous Months

	24 Hours	Seas.	Last Year
San Bern'd'o	1.20	9.31	11.78

Bringing much desired moisture for the ranches in the valley and adding considerably to the storeage of water in the mountains, a heavy rain fell in Upland and throughout the entire valley, beginning late Saturday afternoon and continuing at frequent intervals until Sunday afternoon, the Upland total being 2.49. Gaining slightly over the total for last season, the figures now are 12.02 for this season as against 11.90 for last season, according to figures given by J .R. Johnston of Twenty-second street.

At times during the storm the rainfall was very heavy, but there was little run-off, the dry ground rapidly soaking up the water. The rainfall is still much below what would be called a good season and the two and one-half inches of rain was welcomed by everyone, especially so by the ranchers. The immature lemons now on the trees and the coming Valencia orange crop will be greatly benefitted. In addition to the immediate benefits to the crops, the rain is of great value to the groves themselves and to the deciduous orchards.

At Camp Baldy the rain was especially heavy, falling throughout Saturday afternoon and night and most of Sunday, the total being 4.50 inches. There was a light snowfall at the resort with reports of heavy snow higher up in the mountains. At Ice House canyon the combined rain and snow reached four inches. The temperature there was about 20 degrees Sunday night.

A strong wind accompanied the rain Sunday morning, blowing for several hours, and some of the weaker fruit was blown from the trees but it is not believed there was any material damage.

The rain was general throughout the valley and extended as far as Barstow on the desert.

Police Aid Hunt For Young Uplander

Considerable excitement was occasioned last evening when the police of Upland and Ontario were called upon to join in a search for David, age 4, and Allen, age 3, sons of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Crouse, who were reported missing for several hours from the home of their parents, 563 East Seventh street. It developed, however, that the little fellows had wandered to the home of some friends, about a mile distant, and were returned to their home by the friends.

Dr. James A. Stavely, pastor of the First Methodist church, will leave at 7 o'clock tonight for Phoenix, Ariz., being called there by the death of his niece; Mrs. Frank Martindale. He will return at 7 o'clock Friday morning.

Kicking Mule Is Too Much; Frantz Turns Down Job

O. W. Frantz, local blacksmith, today turned down his first job in 21 years.

A mule, during the process of being shod some time ago, kicked him.

Today the owner of that mule returned for another pair of shoes for the animal.

Mr. Frantz recognized the mule immediately. He thought of his experience, and remembered the strength in the mule's kick. So the job was turned away.

He regretted to spoil his record of serving everyone, but he preferred that, to again meeting the mule.

Officers Elected By Hostess Club

Miss Helen Hilty was elected president of the Hostess club, a recently organized group, at a meeting held last night at Viola's Pie Shop, when organization was completed by the election of officers. Other officers to serve with Miss Hilty, are Miss LeOla Lee, vice-president; Miss Margaret D. Harris, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. F. H. Manker, time keeper. Miss Lois LeBarron Avery of the Chaffey faculty will be chief critic.

The speakers of the evening were Mrs. F. H. Manker, who told of her "Trip to Death Valley" and Mrs. Geo. L. Winter, her subject being "Criticisms I Have Met."

There were fourteen members present and a number of others have signified their intention of becoming members at an early date, which is a very encouraging growth for the youthful club, which will meet each second and fourth Monday.

Petitions Out For Paving Tenth Street

Petitions are today in circulation for the paving of East Tenth street with a light macadam covering. In view of the possiblity of Arrow highway taking that route through the city, Richard G. Manley has withheld his recommendation on the project.

A light pavement would not withstand the heavy traffic, he said, and it is his belief that the work should be delayed until it is definitely known whether that street or Ninth street will be officially designated as Arrow highway.

Many Uplanders at Chaffey Concert

Many Uplanders attended the Chaffey Little Symphony orchestra concert in Chaffey auditorium Friday night, when Director Fred Wilding, Jr. presented an entertainment of unusual attractions.

Miss Majory Smith the soloist won the audience with four soprano selections and her appearance formed an important part of the concert.

DIGGING OF SHAFT FOR NEW WELL IS STARTED BY CITY

Immediate Action Started on Bringing New Source of Water

CREWS WORK DAY, NIGHT

After Water Level Reached 400 Feet Below Earth, Drilling to Start

Four men are today digging a shaft which will reach down 400 feet into the earth for Upland's new water well. Work began Saturday, a few hours after the city council met in a special session to let the contract for the drilling of the new well. This well will be located on Sixth avenue between Ninth and A streets.

After water has been reached by the workmen machinery will be set up and the well drillers will go down several hundred more feet for water, which will assure this city a plentiful supply for several years to come. The shaft will be approximately four feet square and the water level will be reached by the men working in shifts, two forming one crew.

Seventeen feet a day will be the average rate of digging downward. One man will be working in the shaft, filling buckets, which will be pulled to the top by his partner on the level. Two shifts were placed on the job so that the well would be a reality as soon as possible, according to Richard G. Manley, city engineer.

Decision to place the well at that location was made by the city council Thursday night when the city council of Ontario placed a formal objection against digging the well on Upland's property on Campus avenue. The present site will entail no legal entanglements, unless something unforseen arises, while work on the site in Ontario might have arouse a lengthy legal encounter.

The new well will be completed in time for use this summer, Mr. Manley said.

Mrs. F. C. Thomas Is Taken by Death

Mrs. F. C. Thomas 555 Eighth avenue, died Friday, March 1, from an illness of a number of years, she being quite helpless for the past four years. After suffering for so long her death seemed a release for her brave though weary spirit as she fell asleep peacefully.

Clara C. Raucher was born in Lee county, Ia., May 25, 1860. She was baptized and confirmed in the Evangelical church during her childhood. She was married to F. C. Thomas on Aug. 7, 1887. The family came to Upland in December, 1915, and became well-known citizens of the city. In 1923 they united with the Presbyterian church and were active in carrying on the church work.

Surviving Mrs. Thomas are her husband and her son and daughter, Earl Thomas, of Upland, and Mrs. Irma Cram of Yuba City; one sister, Mrs. H. A. Eyman, of Upland, and three grandchildren.

The funeral was held Tuesday, March 5, in Draper's Upland chapel, with Dr. R. C. Stone conducting the services. Interment was made in Bellevue cemetery.

TODAY'S BIBLE TEXT

God saves to the uttermost—Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear.—Isa. 59:1.

Hoover on Prohibition

We have said that Coolidge made a good president and that Herbert Hoover will make a better one. We think that the prohibition issue is one place where Coolidge failed and where Hoover will make good.

We fail to find any evidence where Calvin Coolidge gave himself whole-heartedly to finding a way out of the prohibition difficulty. His greatness lay in the watchword "economy," and in a good business administration. He kept silent on the dry law when maybe he should have spoken up. Coolidge did not oppose the Volstead act, but he did little in a constructive way to find out why the bootleggers have become supreme in many parts of our land, notably the big cities. Many people think Coolidge was overrated and that a myth of greatness grew up around him. Certain it is that he did not exert all the mighty influences of the national government to make prohibition more binding upon the country as a whole. True, there have been improvements in the type of dry officials, but this came about in response to a great popular demand and not because the president insisted upon it.

Hoover in his inaugural address, and in fact in his campaign speeches, showed more decision and support of prohibition than did Coolidge in almost his whole administration. Now the president proposes to find out precisely and exactly where we stand with regard to the dry law. That is just what we need. We of the smaller cities and communities know first hand that the Volstead law has been the greatest step forward in the past fifty years. If the results in the big cities where law is laughed at, are of a different nature and if prohibition cannot be enforced there, the country has a right to know it. The time for "pussyfooting" on the dry law has ended. We need some stiffening of the national backbone and Hoover is just the man to furnish this. His commission will study the "noble experiment" in serious and sympathetic fashion. We can all look forward to the outcome with new courage.

—O—

"Go-Itis"

Years ago we used to hear it said when we saw one of our friends in his "Sunday" suit, "all dressed up and no place to go." After nine months in California we revise this to say: "no need to dress up, and everywhere to go."

The other day we asked Fletcher H. Manker if he had ever taken a trip East. He told us very politely that he never had and that furthermore, he wasn't going to until he had seen all there was to see in California. And he went on to say that it would take him a good many years to see all of that.

There is something to what the brother says. We added Long Beach to our California travelogue last Saturday and had a very interesting day there as the guests of Detroit friends. They think it is the only place in which to spend the winter. The interesting thing is that lots of other people go to Long Beach and then migrate to the interior—to some such lovely spot as Upland for example. Some people think Pasadena is the Garden of Eden, while others regard San Diego as the acme of perfection. It is all just a matter of taste, "as the woman said when she kissed the cow." "What is one man's meat is another man's poison," is the way the ancients put it.

We started out, however, to say that there is a whole empire to see in California. The modern automobile and the good roads that have followed it in amazing fashion open a limitless field of opportunity to us. There is everything to see. We sometimes think we all do too much of "seeing" and not enough of sticking to home. Probably the best combination would be to do as we did when we older folks were "kids," viz., have our trips come as the reward of work well done. Who remembers when the Saturday afternoon ball game was the attraction for the boys for a whole week of good work in school and at the wood pile? Well, times have changed and our modern boys and girls have chances undreamed of by their fathers and mothers. We hope they are better for it. Sometimes we wonder.

Bankruptcy Under the Probe

Why do men go bankrupt? Especially retail business men.

The United States department of commerce is going to try to find out the cause of so many business failures. A survey will be made of different cities and the first one studied will be Louisvivlle, Kentucky, where an average of one grocery store closes every working day and where another one starts up every day, keeping the number balanced.

What these federal experts find out will be of interest. The retail business is a road beset with many dry bones. Anyone who can find out how men can get rich in the retail game will get a gold medal. The report on bankruptcy should be of much interest to all business men. Let the experts tell us how to make the income keep ahead of the outgo.

—O—

Thank You, Crombie!

Crombie Allen, genial editor of The Ontario Daily Report, is like a Boy Scout. He does a good turn daily—and more.

It was a strange coincidence that Crombie parked his car right back of ours over at the Junior high school Sunday morning when that great gang of men gathered to hear Dr. Hill at the Community Bible class. A cross-section of that terrific rain must have hit the inside of our motor for the thing refused to budge after we came out. It was the first time in years that a car of ours simply refused to start. Well, what did Crombie do but get his car back of ours, push us for a half block or so, and then, failing to start the engine, take us to church. Then, after that we talked Jas. H. Paulin into taking us over with his bus to our machine and, just as we expected, we just got in, stepped on the starter and "away she went." Your faithful car ought to have the right to buck once in a while. The rest of us do.

Eightieth Birthday Is Celebrated Monday—

With a very important birthday anniversary as the incentive, Mrs. Etta Johnston gave a dinner and reception Monday at her home on West Eighth street in honor of her mother, Mrs. Jennie E. Farnsworth, who celebrated her eightieth birthday.

Mrs. Johnston used lovely hyacinths as the floral decorations on the prettily appointed dinner table where an excellent dinner, including a handsome birthday cake, was served at the noon hour. The dinner guests were the Rev. and Mrs. James A. Stavely, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hawthorne, Mrs. C. H. Post, Miss Winifred Spaulding and Mrs. Clara Engle, of Hollywood, a sister of Mrs. Farnsworth.

Although she knew of the plans for the birthday dinner, Mrs. Farnsworth was very much surprised by the reception that followed during the afternoon. In accordance with plans kept secret from the honoree, friends and neighbors, many of them her fellow church members, began arriving at 2:30 and the birthday lady was showered with congratulations and good wishes and to these many of her friends and relatives added lovely gifts.

Teh callers she received during the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Alvord, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. J. J. Atwood, Mrs. Joshua Bacon, Mrs. F. C. Buffington, Mrs. C. H. Bowdens Are Hosts At Delightful Affair—

Gathering at Hotel Ontario as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Bowden Friday evening, a group of friends participated in one of the most delightful social affairs of the Saint Patrick season, a charming dinner bridge. The decorations, cleverly suggestive of the Irish holiday and also very beautiful, were effective combinations of maiden-hair fern and green sweet peas in green baskets, and green candles in green holders. The Irish color was also noted in the nut baskets, the place cards and the score cards.

At 7 o'clock the guests joined their hosts at the handsomely appointed table where a most delicious course dinner was served, the company lingering for a time in pleasant conversation.

At the conclusion of the dinner the company gathered at the bridge tables and an interesting tourney followed. When scores were counted the prize winners were found to be Mrs. C. P. Mengle first, Mrs. Elmer Mathews second and Mrs. Henry Blohm consolation, and for the men, Harry Flowers, Reed Williams and V. H. Wilson, in the order named.

Those enjoying the evening as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bowden were: Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Blohm, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Norton, Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Troop 4 Planning Anniversary Party

The American Legion Upland Troop 4 of Boy Scouts, under leadership of H. J. Stickney, held an interesting meeting at their quarters last evening, when a number of the boys passed the tests. After the regular ceremonial the boys played basketball and worked on the building of their patrol corners. They are planning on a birthday party soon when the troop will be one year old.

The children of St. Mark's Episcopal church had an interesting part in the church service Sunday morning. Each class had been assigned parts to learn and they recited them very creditably.

Mrs. Warren Atwood, of Hemet, who has been on special nursing duty at the San Antonio Community hospital, was joined here by her husband Sunday, and they visited Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Atwood.

Mrs. N. G. Pehl's Life Is Reviewed

Friends of Mrs. N. G. Pehl, in speaking of her recent death, recalled some interesting facts concerning her life. As Eva Bell Hales she was born Dec. 10, 1871, in Waupaco county, Wis. While she was still a young girl, the family moved to Hancock, Wis., where she knew the character strengthening experiences of pioneer life.

After securing her own education, she taught school, later going to Campbell, Minn., to teach. There she met and on March 15, 1893, married a young farmer, N. G. Pehl. Two sons were born to this union, Earl Warren, of Los Angeles, and Arthur H. Pehl, of Upland.

The Pehl family came to Upland in November, 1901. Mrs. Pehl soon identified herself with civic activities. She was a charter member of the Upland chapter, O. E. S., and served as worthy matron of the chapter. She was also president of the Upland Woman's club for two years. For a long time she attended the Upland Presbyterian church and last December she united with that church.

Besides her husband and sons, Mrs. Pehl, who died March 1, left three sisters, Mrs. W. A. Wright and Mrs. Clarence Barton, of Hancock, Wis., and Mrs. Runcorn, of Gladstone, N. M., and four grandchildren.
